

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

The objectives of the study entitled The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde are two things. They are the masks of goodness represented by Dr. Jekyll and to explain the dark sides represented by Mr. Hyde.

The mask of goodness represented by Dr. Jekyll is becoming an honorable person, having a good job, becoming a good person, and becoming overt behavior. He becomes an honorable person by his pleasant dinner some his friend. They are honorable-middle class who are intelligent and reputable men. He has a good job because he is a scientist who creates and develops his experiment. He becomes a good person for helping sick people. He has overt-behavior person by his show good performance in front of the society.

The hidden dark sides represented by Mr. Hyde are becoming a cruel person, killer, strange person, no human being, and covert-behavior person. He becomes a cruel person because he tramps a girl. He becomes a killer because he kills Sir Danver Carew. He becomes strange person because he lost identity. He becomes no human being because he is like animal and his behavior is not accepted by the society. Mr. Hyde becomes covert-behavior because he covers Dr. Jekyll within himself. He tries to hide the other sides (Dr. Jekyll) in front of the society.
